

Join us! Be our Volunteer !

The I4CM Programme Committee opens a selection process for volunteers to participate in the event to be held in the Copernicus Science Center in Warsaw, Poland, from September 3rd to 4th, 2018.

You must fill the following form and we will contact you as soon as possible

Why should you apply?

- Because you will have the opportunity to meet a large number of experts and professionals in the field of Crisis Management and innovation
- Because you will acquire the experience in events of this type

We are looking for people to help with all kinds of tasks including:

- Setup/Teardown

For setup, we need help getting the rooms prepped up for our sessions.

For teardown, we need to undo all the setup including packing up all the rooms, the registration desk, cleaning signage, and making it look like we were never there.

- Registration

We need help to register the participants, to distribute programme and promotional materials, and to answer any questions.

- Room monitor

Pick your sessions, make sure the speakers have what they need, and help with the in-room Audio and Visual.

Fluency in spoken English and/or Polish is essential.

If you are interested, please fill out the following form and we will contact you as soon as possible.

If you would like to find out more, please contact us at I4CM@ProjectDriver.eu, a member of the organisation team will get back to you shortly.
