WHAT IS IN THERE FOR YOU ?

BENEFITS & ADVANTAGES

Crisis Management Networks

Connect your network to others, develop solutions faster and better, addressing acute challenges in a timely and effective manner.

Practitioners and Civil Society

Contribute to finding solutions to practical challenges through direct contact with the developers of new methods and tools.

Scientists

Ensure faster uptake of research outputs by practitioners and industry.

Policy Makers

Retrieve insights from those working on the ground to improve the quality and efficiency of policies.

Solution Providers

Access to the end-users and conceptual developers of tools to identify needs, gaps and opportunities.

Within the CMINE, chaired working groups are set up to discuss how to tackle current and future challenges. They develop approaches aimed at resolving pressing issues of practitioners involved in crisis management.
